

The Joe Times

Joe War II is finally over

It started off with 2 star Colonel and his great intelligence, The Joes fought a Great War but they had to think outside the box. 2 star Colonel thought that we were doing it the old fashion way, he knew that the Edwards had a weakness he just had to find it out. And then he thought of it, the Edwards had no intelligence therefore they won't see him coming. So all he had to do is just walk in there and say he was an Edward and bingo. But the Edwards weren't as dumb as he thought, by the time he had got the Edward plans the Edwards shot 2 star Colonel. We destroyed the Edward base hopefully knowing that 2 star Colonel went down in victory, without him we probably would've still been fighting and lost.

The car stealing Edwards have been caught

A month ago 8 Edwards stole a Joe SUV, the Edwards were caught and accused of stealing. 3 Joe policemen were shot 1 died the others were injured. Not all the Edwards were caught 2 got away, the Joe military is tracking them down as you read. We are hoping that we will catch them by the time the next Joe Times comes out.

The Joe 2020 elections

The Joe 2020 election votes have come out and the results are Ben remains our Joe president, until 2024 when they are forced to pick a new president because Ben has already ran for 2 terms in a row. Although we will have to have a revote for vice president Jacob Mercado versus Cougar Roberts, because they both got 4 votes each. The vote will be held after the deadly Edronavirus subsides.

The new deadly Edronavirus

The new deadly Edronavirus is one of the newest and deadliest viruses yet, no one knows how the virus started but they think it started by an Edward. They think an Edward ate a Joe! The whole Joe Republic has been infected with the Edronavirus and soon so will be Joe land. The Edward that ate the Joe has gone to jail for murder. But the question still remains will the Joes be able to survive the Edronavirus or will many lives be lost.

The good Edward

2 days ago a good Edward named Kosta Mellos went to court because he wanted to become a Joe. A couple hours into court they found that he was armed. The court judge stopped the court there and then. The Edward insisted he was not going to use it, but they didn't believe him. Although he had a weapon he was not charged under any crimes since he didn't use it. All will stay the same except the Edward could not have any weapons on him when he enters the Joe Republic or Joe land.

An ancient script has been found

Yesterday an ancient script was found, they think the script was written by OG Joe. The script was found in a cave right by the Joe Republic. The script seems to be 4 to 5 million years old. We don't know how the script got there, or how it held its condition for so long.

All we do know is that the first part says "Joes are" and that is all.
